

Seamless, compliant garnishment, levy, and lien management powered by expertise and innovation

Responding to garnishment orders and other third-party requests can be a significant drain on legal teams. From the volume of orders to their jurisdictional complexities, most companies do not have the internal processes, resources, or time to streamline and address this demand, creating unnecessary legal and financial risk exposure.

Specialized Processes Developed Delivered by Experienced Resources

Integreon's garnishment service seamlessly addresses staffing, process, workflow, and cost-related issues. It also recognizes that responding to third-party requests often requires specialized workflows that consider risk and data privacy.
